Mayor Wanser, of Jersey City, Has About Completed His List of Appointments.

REPUBLICANS NOW IN CONTROL.

Joseph W. Hardenbergh is Made a Member of the Board of Finance-Other Appointments.

In addition to the appointment announced in The World, Mayor Wanser, of Jersey City, yesterday named Alexander McLean, Tax Commissioner; Edward Hoos and Robert Simpson, Directors of Education, and Joseph Warren Hardenbergh, Finance Commissio With the exception of a successor to Street and Water Commissioner William R. Cook and Corporation Attorney Spencer Weart, Mayor ser has completed his list of appointments.

JOHN M. JONES.
Unless the bills pending in the Legislature corganizing the Street and Water Board and the city's Law Department become laws before May 1 the Mayor will name successors to those two officials. A Republican, probably Building Inspector John A. McArthur, will take Commissioner Cook's place, and Mr. Weart, if the Mayor can induce him to serve another term, will be reappointed.

This is the complete list of appointments: Finance Commissioners—John M. Jones, Republican, to succeed George R. Hillier, Republican; James S. Bailey, Democrat, to succeed John Fraser, Democrat; Joseph Warren Hardenbergh, Democrat, to succeed Alva City Comptroller-George R. Hough, Dem

NEW MEN PUT IN OFFICE. FINE VELVET FOR LEARY.

On a Dock Ring Order for Lumber He Makes Two Clear Profits.

OF COURSE THE CITY PAYS BOTH.

Yet Why Should Taxpayers Be Charged $27.75 for Pine When It May Be Bought for $21?

LET THERE BE COMPETITIVE BIDS.

Once, in the Truth of Anger, Cram Charged Phelan with Being Leary's Partner-Phelan Gave This Order.

From the moment that "Andy" White entered the Dock Board the carefully laid plans of the Tammany ring began to be developed.

Another Commissioner has for his bondsman for the fulfilment of his duties as a public officer the favored contractor in the department. The "pull" of this contractor seems unlimited. It has gone to such an extent that he has no competitors, for none stare compete, through fear of being "Inspected to death" and ruined on any contract, as others have been, or would have been if they had not dropped their contracts "like hot cakes."

This same Commissioner and this same ractor have had large business interests in com-mon and may have them now. They have also . . . . . . . . . had large business interests in comthird man, who is now regarded as one of the in-side ring in Tammany Hall.—The World, April 6, 1894.

There are now being published a series of charges against the Dock Department, some of which relate to me personally said to the manage-ment of the department and which contain no truth whatever.—James J. Phelao, business partner of James D. Leary, in the Tribune, April 18. "Dock Department, Aug. 17, 1893.

"Treasurer's Order, 17,158. James D. Leary: "Please deliver at Stanton street and East Ninety-first street plers the yellow pine timber called for in the accompanying schedule, the first delivery to be within forty-five days of receipt of order and the final delivery within seventy-five days of receipt of order, at the price named to the department per 1,000 feet.

"JAMES J. PHELAN, Treasurer.

"ANDREW J. WHITE, President," This is the wording of one of the famous-o nfamous-treasurer's orders issued by James . Phelan, Treasurer of the John Good Cordage and Machinery Company, to James D. Leary, Vice-President of the same company.

The "price named to the Department per 1,000 feet" in this treasurer's order from Phelan to Business Partner Leary is $27.75. The price in the lumber trade fixed, standard and prevailing for all such yellow pine lumber as Leary — a term common in the trade—furnished to Phelan, Treasurer of the Dock Board and the Cordage trust, is $21. The order thus given from out the dark forest of Phelan's private preserves called for a total of 532, 770 feet of yellow pine lumber. This amounts to $14,763, 36. The difference thus put into Leary's hands by Business Partner Phelan on this small transaction, in a single instance, was $3,575.13.

And Leary is the ''responsible concern' of whom Phelan prated in the Tribune article of Responsible to whom? To the city or Phelan?

On March 29, 1894, there was a real and bona fide competition on yellow pine lumber at Pier A, North River. Phelan had got rightened over the rumblings about Leary's pull and so gummies and other accessorie were cast aside, and in response to Phelan's circular letter to the trade the following bids were received for 2,000,000 feet of yellow

m. D. Wheelwright Yellow Pine Company . Graves & Steers..... Robinson & Booth... Hilton & Scribner ..... W. H. Loud ..... The result, under a fair competition, that a little over $21 per 1,000 feet was the price the city had to pay for yellow pine lumber. Mr. Wheelwright got the contract. How does it come to pass that Leary, expartner in the American Dredging Company, present partner of Ed Stokes for a right bower and of Phelan for a left bower, gets $27.75 per 1,000 feet from Phelan ? It is interesting to note that Apologist Cram was away from Pier A. North River, when Treasurer's Order 17, 158 was issued, and that Andy White, fertilizer, was President pro tem. of the Dock Board Trust on Aug. 17, 1893. No wonder, when Phelan insisted on freezing out babcock, Lary & Co. and Charles Du Bois, to whom Cram had recklessly given out Trensurer's orders, thus breaking the com-
